Girl, 5, Found Dead After Maniac Escapes

By the Associated Press

ARBORFIELD, England, April 30.—Five-year-old Linda Bowyer, who vanished from home shortly after an insane strangler escaped from nearby Broadmoor asylum, was found dead in a clump of woods today.

The escaped man, John Thomas Straffen, was recaptured some 12 hours earlier as he walked in the woods with another little girl, 7 years old. She was unharmed.

He had scaled the asylum wall and was free for only four hours.

Police sought today to learn if Straffen was linked with Linda's death.

Straffen gave up without a struggle. Linda's disappearance was not reported until several hours after Straffen was recaptured.

He had been sent to Broadmoor t October after an eight-minute ring in which he was found tally unfit for trial. He had n charged with strangling two ls," aged 6 and 9.

Garlic Production Rises

The Veneto region of Italy, main source of United States imports of Italian garlic, produced 4,000 tons this season, compared with 2,900 tons the preceding year.

Good Weather Will Permit Marines' A-Test Tomorrow

By the Associated Press

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 30.—Atomic scientists and Marines scanned the skies today looking for "an acceptable weather pattern" for nuclear maneuvers.

The twice-postponed Marine Corps maneuver is now scheduled for tomorrow mid-morning if the clouds blow away. Clouds and a temperature inversion pattern—a layer of hot air above cold—have held up the test.

Clouds add to the radiation hazard; temperature inversion increases the shock-wave danger. Test Manager Carroll L. Tyler stressed that weather conditions "must fit into an acceptable pattern for both safety and scientific reasons."
