TRASK'S WRONG DOING.

Embezzled from Bank, Town and a Friend—Cruelly Deserted Sick Wife.

Wallingford, Ct., Oct. 11.—Word was received, tonight, of the arrest at Halifax, N. S., of Willis Trask, treasurer of the borough of Wallingford and teller of the First National Bank of that place. As stated in dispatches of The Associated Press, two weeks ago, Trask left town a defaulter to the borough of Wallingford to the extent of $2900. A few days later it was learned that he had defrauded a prominent business man in town. Tonight, it is officially announced that the man is a defaulter to the National Bank in the sum of $6404.87. The amount taken from the borough treasury was immediately made good by his bondsmen, and it is also now announced that Trask's bondsmen have made good the amount stolen from the bank.

To a representative of The Associated Press, tonight, President Walter J. Leavenworth and Cashier W. H. Newton gave the following official statement: "An exhaustive investigation into all departments of the bank has been made, from which it appears that Trask has been a defaulter to the bank in the sum of $6404.87. Every dollar of this has been made good by his bondsmen.

"Even if the whole amount were a loss instead of having been made entirely good, it would not have affected the financial soundness of the bank, as will appear from the official report of the condition of the institution made, Oct. 5, which shows the capital stock to be $150,000, the surplus and undivided profits, $45,674.14. In other words, the surplus of the bank amounts to more than 30 per cent. of the capital."

It is stated by the bank officials that the methods employed by Trask were possible from his position as teller. In the line of his duties he received the bank's deposits, appropriated a portion of them to his own use, and instead of properly entering them, he failed to place numerous items on the books of the bank. His entries on the depositors' pass books were in all cases correct. In receiving deposits of cash he entered them on the pass books, destroyed the deposit slips and appropriated the money.

Trask was located at the instance of the officials of the bank. The man left town about three weeks ago. A few days previously he had been granted a vacation by Cashier Newton. Two weeks before this, his wife had given birth to a child and was for many days critically ill. At a time when her condition was most serious, Trask suddenly left town. This caused comment and the wildest of stories were circulated.

A notice to the borough officials to the effect that the borough's account at the bank had been overdrawn, led to an investigation, which resulted in the discovery that he had absconded with nearly $3000 of the borough's money. The amount was immediately made good by friends.

The bank's president called for an examination into the affairs, which, being made, resulted as stated above. As soon as the defalcation in the bank was discovered, steps were taken to locate the missing man and his whereabouts were ascertained. The arrest at Halifax followed.

CISNEROS IN NEW YORK.

The New York Herald Says She Arrived There, Sunday Morning.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Herald, tomorrow will say: "Senorita Evangelina Cosio y Cisneros, a Cuban girl, who escaped from Casa de Recoginos in Havana, Wednesday night last, arrived in this city, yesterday morning. American friends accompanied her by train from New Orleans.

On reaching Jersey City, Miss Cisneros was taken in a closed carriage to the headquarters of the Cuban sympathizers in this city at 56 New street, where she was joyfully received. After a short reception she was taken away, and no one was allowed to see her until this evening.

A special edition of the local Cuban newspaper was published, this afternoon, asking all loyal Cubans to assemble at the office of the Junta at 8 o'clock, to join in a torchlight procession in honor of the young woman's escape.

Here's the New York Journal's Denial.

New York, Oct. 11.—All the employes of the New York Journal and particularly, the people having charge of the Senorita Cisneros matter, emphatically denied, tonight, that the young woman was in the city, and a tour of all the rooms in the Journal offices proved the falsity of the rumor that she was secreted there at midnight. It was stated at the Journal office, at midnight, that all rumors and reports concerning the presence of the young lady in this city are unauthorized and untrue.

Polo Notes.

"Bangor's got her polo players if she can only get her league."—Kennebec Journal. That's all right. We can get that whenever we think we want it and make a move for it. And it will be a good one, too.—Bangor Commercial.

Bath Times: Manager Donnell of the Almedas, received a letter from James Mooney, saying that he was in first class condition and anxious for the polo season to commence. He will play on the Bath team, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding. The members will report for duty several days before the opening game for practice.

The Southern New England Polo League was formed at New Haven, Ct., Monday, with eight clubs. Springfield is the only member outside of Connecticut. The season will commence Nov. 15 and close March 19. The league is divided into two divisions, the western division comprising Derby, Waterbury, Bridgeport and New Haven, and the eastern Springfield, Hartford, Meriden and New Britain.

Bangor Commercial: Manager W. W. Burnham of the Portland polo team, was in the city on business, Tuesday. Landlord Chris Toole of the St. James hotel, had a talk with Mr. Burnham regarding the polo situation and he told a reporter, Tuesday afternoon, that the Commercial could state that Bangor would surely have a polo team. Mr. Toole said the team would be signed right away and that in a few days he would further announce his plans.

Lewiston Journal: There is a rumor to the effect that it is not so certain that Jordan and Whipple will be in the Portland polo team as it was last week. Manager Burnham is credited with pretty good sense in things relating to the stick and ball, but local sports think that he will not hire Jordan. Whipple wanted to get on the Rockland team but couldn't. Pat Farrell, the new Portland goal tender, is a lively player. When the ball shoots into the goal by him the trick must be a good one. Last year he won an enviable reputation as the cage tender for the very much alive Fall River team. Mr. Burnham has had his eye upon him for some time. There was but one fault in his last winter's playing, and that was that he was apt to become so interested in a scrap at the farther end of the hall that he would edge away from the goal and let the ball slide in. But when he was there it was a windmill whenever the ball approached. Everybody is asking who the "representative" from Lewiston to the meeting that it has been alleged will be held in Portland this week to organize a New England polo league. Everybody knows who is behind the items that appear in the Portland papers about [illegible] in Lewiston is credited with wanting to organize an opposition team to the one already in the field. Sporting blood here isn't hot enough to support two polo combinations. Yet a Portland paper said in October 8th, that Portland, Lewiston, Waterville, Bangor, Biddeford and Portsmouth, N. H., would be represented.

Ball Notes.

According to the Washington Post, nine magnates are in favor of the double umpire system.

Milwaukee turned in $3000 to President Johnson, this year, as the 10 per cent. of its gate—the largest contribution of any one club to the Western league fund.

Cleveland Press: It would be too bad, really, if the Three Guardsmen were forced to relinquish $10,000 of the $125,000 the boys have earned for them this season in buying an extra pitcher to help out Nichols, Lewis and Kloby!

The money taken in at the Temple cup games was divided up at Baltimore, Monday night, each player of the Boston and Baltimore clubs receiving a little more than $300. This did not include $60 each taken at the exhibition games at Springfield and at Worcester. The three Boston games took in more than $12,000, while $1400 was the total amount taken at the two Baltimore games. The Baltimore players allowed Amole a full share, although he played only a few weeks.

The greatest game of base ball ever played in the West between amateur clubs took place at Minneapolis, Saturday. In a 23-inning game the Monte Carlos defeated the Quicksteps by a score of 3 to 1. Neither team scored until the 21st inning. Ryeberg pitched for the Monte Carlos, Rolander for the Quicksteps. The game was played for the championship of Minnesota. Summary: Hits—Quicksteps, 5; Monte Carlos, 4. Errors—Quicksteps, 2; Monte Carlos, 0. Strike-outs—Rolander, 18; Ryeberg, 11.

Herald: There was a little play in the last Washington-Baltimore game that fooled everybody, including one of the participants. Brown was on third when Leahy started to steal second. Robbie "let her go" on a line to Pond. The throw looked as if it was intended for the short infield, but it was low, and, as the doctor mechanically stuck out his hand, the ball lodged there. Brown had been fooled into starting for home, and was caught at the plate. The only other time the play was ever made was by Charlie Radbourn and Morgan Murphy in this city.

Al Spalding says: "The umpire should be upheld by the league at any cost, even though his decision may be wrong. He should go upon the field as the official representative of the National League, and his rulings should be backed up, even at the cost of a falling off in attendance. If a player insults him it is an insult to the league, and the offender should be promptly fined and put off the field in disgrace. If an umpire fails to enforce the rules as they are printed, I believe that he should be dismissed from the league staff. But under no circumstances should an umpire be removed for fining disorderly players or for making poor decisions. Of course, if it should occur that an umpire was crooked or deliberately showed partiality to a certain club, it would then be necessary to nail him to the wall by forever blacklisting him."

There is likely to be some trouble over the ball games for the Temple cup. The series for this trophy ended, Monday, the Baltimore club getting it again, but the donor of the trophy, Mr. W. C. Temple of Pittsburg, Pa., is not very well satisfied with the manner in which things have been going. He does not relish the many rumors that have been in circulation concerning the players of both teams agreeing before the games started to equally divide the receipts, win or lose. Mr. Temple said, Monday: "These rumors are not pleasant to me, and I shall demand a thorough investigation into the matter. If it can be proved that there has been any such arrangement among the players, I will attend the annual meeting of the league and make a demand that these players be blacklisted, and that the cup be returned to the league. The cup was not given altogether as a means of making money for the ball players. One of its objects was to stimulate the game and increase interest in it among the people. These latter objects could easily be attained, while at the same time the players who had done so well during the season as to land their teams first and second in the great race would get some extra remuneration for it. The legal conditions are that the winners get 60 per cent. and the losers 40 per cent. If there has been an equal divide, then the public will be convinced that the entire affair is a hippodrome. The series has not been a good one, by any means, and there has been general disappointment."

Foot Ball Notes.

Princeton, in addition to showing Pennsy the marble heart as far as foot ball is concerned, now refuses to meet the Quakers in base ball or track athletics.

In the game with the naval cadets, last Saturday, Johnnie Baird of Princeton, kicked two goals from the field, one from the 35-yard line and one from the middle of the field.

Last year the total scores against the big four were: Yale, 44; Harvard, 40; Pennsylvania, 20; Princeton, 12. This year the only member of the big quartet that has been scored on is Pennsy.

Lone Wolf, who played center for the Indians, last year, has left the Carlisle school, and new men are working hard for this important place in the Indian line. The two most likely men are Printup, a Tuscarora Indian, 22 years old, who played as sub last year, and Redwater, who stands about 6 feet, 5 inches, and weighs over 200 pounds.

A new play, which promises to do away with the old style of drop kicking, is made by the center snapping the ball to a player who stands about eight yards behind the line. The instant he receives it he holds it firmly on the ground and the full-back kicks it over the goal before the opposing rushers can get through and block the ball.—Philadelphia Press.

The editor-in-chief of the Hamburg Echo, Herr Rheinhold Stenzel, charged with less majeste, against Leopold, King of the Belgians, was tried at Hamburg, Monday, convicted and sentenced. The proceedings were taken at the request of Baron Greindl, Belgian minister at Berlin. The offence consisted of the publication of several articles asserting that King Leopold habitually encouraged gambling; that he had his own tables at Ardenness and personally protected the gambling saloons at Ostend. Herr Stenzel denied the authorship of the offending articles, but accepted responsibility for them. The public prosecutor demanded a sentence of six months imprisonment. The court imposed a sentence of eight months and ordered the immediate arrest of Herr Stenzel. There is reason to believe that he willl endeavor to evade the execution of the warrant by leaving the country.

The circular of the Turkish government sent to the Powers on the subject of the island of Crete, proposed the disarmament of both Christians and Mussulmans by Ottoman troops, co-operating with the international forces, all to be commanded by a European general of the Turkish service; the appointment of a governor of Crete by the Sultan and the formation of a gendarmary corps. In conclusion, the circular firmly points out the necessity of taking immediate action.

HORRIBLE, BRUTAL MURDER.

Two Camden, N. J. Women Shot by Burglars, Early Tuesday Morning.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Vane, aged 65, widow of Capt. Eli Vane, and her daughter, Mrs. Sarah M. Shaw, aged 40 years, were shot and killed, early this morning, it is believed by burglars. Mrs. Vane was instantly killed and Mrs. Shaw expired in less than half an hour without recovering consciousness.

The two women lived at No. 242 street, in the lower part of Camden, near the river front. It was about 4.30 o'clock when the attention of the police was called to the crime. Elisha, a son of Mrs. Shaw, was seen at a third-story window of the house and was shouting "police" at the top of his voice. The young man has been laid up with typhoid fever, and in a statement to the police said that he was awakened shortly after 2 o'clock by a pistol shot. He made his way down stairs, and at the bottom of the third-story stairs found his mother bleeding and unconscious. He ran to the window and gave the alarm.

When the police entered the house they found the mother of Mrs. Shaw sitting in a chair in the sitting room dead with a bullet wound in her head. Mrs. Shaw was at once removed to the hospital, where she died in a few minutes without making any statement.

The shooting incident to the tragedy has caused a relapse in the condition of Mrs. Shaw's son and it is feared it will result fatally. An examination of the house showed that a rear shutter had been forced open and a bureau drawer on the second floor had been ransacked.

SETTLERS VS. SHEPHERDS.

Battle at Long Valley, Wash., in Which Three Men Are Killed.

Denver, Col., Oct. 12.—A special to the Republican from Pocatello, Idaho, says: News just received from Long Valley in Washington county says that there has been a battle between the settlers and the shepherds in which three men were killed, one dangerously wounded. Details are meagre, but it seems that 15 of the settlers warned the sheep men to leave the valley and when they refused, made an attack upon the camp. Thirty shots were fired by settlers and a man named Barber was killed. The sheep men then returned the fire, killing three of the party fled.

The trouble is the outgrowth of the strained relations that existed in that section between the settlers and sheep men for some time. It is not an uncommon thing for stock to be maimed and hay stacks to be burned and even settlers and sheep men to exchange shots, but no one has heretofore been killed. Officers have left Weiser for the scene of the trouble.

The jury in the supreme court at Nashua, N. H., Tuesday, returned a verdict awarding Miss Edna E. Martin of Hudson, damages in the sum of $100 and her diploma, in her suit against Elmer E. French, principal of the McGaw Normal Institute of South Merrimac. The plaintiff sought to recover $200 for damages which she alleges she has sustained through the "malicious" refusal of the defendant to grant her a diploma at the time of her graduation from the McGraw Institute.

The police have discovered evidences of incendiarism in connection with a tenement house fire at Concord, N. H., Tuesday morning. The fire broke out in the loft of a tenement occupied by Edward S. Carroll, but was easily subdued by the department. Carroll's son-in-law, Hiland U. Cass, with whom he had quarrelled and who was seen to leave the loft just before the fire broke out, has been arrested by the police and will be tried, Wednesday. He asserts his innocence.

A shepherd named Vacher has been arrested at Belley, department of Ain, 44 miles from Lyons, France, charged with committing a series of so-called Jack-the-Ripper murders. He has confessed to killing three shepherds, three girls and two women. Vacher, the authorities announce, was confined in an asylum for the insane. The series of murders attributed to him commenced in 1895 and they appear to have been actuated by purely bloodthirsty instincts, as the victims were all poor people. They were terribly mutilated after their throats had been cut and all the women were criminally assaulted.

The 87th annual meeting of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions opened, Tuesday, at New Haven, Ct., for sessions which will continue until Friday, inclusive. A special dispatch from Paris says it is stated on authority in the French capitol, that an association has been formed, with considerable capital, in the United States, the object of the organization being to secure the escape from his prison on the Isle DuSalut, off the coast of French Guinea, of Captain Albert Dreyfus, the French officer who was drummed out of the army on Jan. 5, 1895, on the parade ground of the military school, Paris, after having been convicted by court martial of having sold war department plans to the representatives of a foreign government. The dispatch adds that the members of this association are being carefully watched by French detectives who claim to believe that the plan of the plotters is to carry off Dreyfus by force.

"Pat" Galvin, who is recognized as one of the bonanza kings of the Klondike, where he has been engaged in mining for the past three years, in an interview at Seattle, as to the gold regions of the north, estimating their probable output, said: "There are 461 claims which have been operated sufficiently to prove their richness. There are 280 claims already staked out but not developed. By reason of their location near other claims already shown to be very rich, I have no doubt will prove equal to the other 461. Taking these claims and figuring out their cubic contents and making a conservative estimate, I do not see why the output from these claims alone will fall short of $50,000,000."

Andrew Carnegie has perfected the largest iron producing combination in the world by securing the lease of the Tilden mine in Michigan. He will operate this big producer in connection with the Norrie, and the group of mines which he owns in the Mesaba range. Dr. Nelson P. Hulst, the well-known mining expert, has been placed in charge of all the Carnegie mining interests. The series of operations whereby the Carnegie interests have come into control of the greatest group of iron ore producing properties in America, constitute the most important movement that has taken place in the iron trade for years. When Carnegie got his Mesaba mines there was a good deal of interest in the matter, but it is only since the Norrie and Tilden deals were announced that the importance and scope of the Pittsburg concern's projects have become apparent. There are several mines in this combination, each of which can produce more ore than the Chapin.

President Doliber's report was then read. It reviewed the work of the association and made an interesting paper. The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed the association to be in a strong, healthy condition.

Sherman's Reply to Salisbury's Refusal to Participate in Sealing Conference.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Secretary Sherman has written a reply to the note of Lord Salisbury expressing Great Britain's declination to take part in a Behring sea conference in which Russia and Japan are to participate. The reply have been sent by cable to the British government. The answer states that the United States government views with astonishment the determination of Great Britain not to participate in a conference, including Russia and Japan, and the statement is made that up to the 23d of last month, the United States authorities had fully expected that the conference would proceed with Russia and Japan as well as Great Britain present.

The state department suggests a conference in accordance with the terms of Lord Salisbury's agreement as he construes it, namely, between experts of Great Britain, the United States and Canada. This last feature is now under consideration by the British government, its substance having been transmitted by cable, but it is not expected that an answer willl be made until Mr. Sherman's answer in detail reaches London.

In the meantime preparations for the conference between the United States, Russia and Japan are proceeding.

TOPSHAM FAIR POSTPONED.

Rain Did It—The Fair Will Now Continue Through Friday.

Topsham, Oct. 12.—(Special).—Rain necessitated the postponement of the Sagadahoc county fair at Topsham, today. The track was so heavy that it was impossible to start the races advertised for Tuesday afternoon, and the management decided to carry the fair ahead one day. Accordingly the 2.25 and 2.50 classes which would have occurred, this afternoon, will take place on Wednesday.

Despite the inclemency of the weather, Tuesday, a crowd of over 200 people was present at the fair grounds. The exhibition hall is already well filled with agricultural exhibits, and the display this fall bids fair to rival those of all previous years. The list of entries for the races is exceptionally large. Among the new features of the fair will be the ladies' race which has four entries and which will occur on Friday, the last day of the fair. If the weather proves pleasant, Wednesday, a large crowd is anticipated.

INCENDIARY STILL AT WORK.

Another Mysterious Fire at Portland—Narrow Escape of Aged Lady.

Portland, Oct. 11.—A fire in a tenement house, this evening, indicates that Portland's firebug has resumed operations. The blaze started in a closet in a hallway and the circumstances show it to have been of incendiary origin. The department put it out before much damage had been done. Mrs. Hannah Linehan, an aged woman, was taken from the building unconscious and nearly suffocated. She was soon revived.

PROSPECT.

Mrs. Clara McGown of Bar Harbor, was the guest of your correspondent, Monday, Oct. 11, after an absence of 23 years.—Fred Bonden, a young man 18 years old, came near losing his life, Saturday. He hitched his boat, a dory, to a vessel that was in tow of a tug boat in Marsh bay, and when he got into his boat along side of the vessel, she sheared before he cut the pointer off, and the boat was bottom up in an instant. The tug shut off steam and boats were lowered, and after being in the water 15 or 20 minutes, he was rescued in an exhausted condition. His being an expert swimmer probably was the means of saving his life.—F. C. Cunningham and wife passed the Sabbath with friends in Swanville.—Josie Gray, who has been passing two weeks pleasantly with friends in East Orland, returned home, Sunday.—Alfred Ridley and Guy Gray passed the Sabbath with friends at Searsport.

Badgerville, so called, in Athens, was totally destroyed by fire, Sunday morning. Partially insured.

Lewis Coombs, aged 18, of Stonington, was drowned, Monday afternoon. He was hunting ducks with William Woodcock. In reaching for a dead bird both boys fell overboard. Woodcock reached the boat but Coombs sank. The body was recovered.

Hon. E. B. Weeks of Old Town, received word, Tuesday morning, from Game and Fish Warden Berry of Winthrop, that next Thursday there would be shipped to Bangor for him, six cans or about 10,000 or 15,000 landlocked salmon and trout which will be placed in Pushaw pond. Senator Weeks has taken considerable interest in getting this pond stocked with the choicest fish.

The October term of the supreme judicial court in Hancock county convened at Ellsworth, Tuesday morning, Judge Haskell presiding. A large number of cases are on the civil docket but comparatively few have been placed on the trial list, and indications are that very few of these will be tried. But a few criminal cases will come before the grand jury outside of liquor cases, and none of great importance. At this term a large number of liquor indictments are usually presented. This is the first "liquor term" of County Attorney John E. Bunker, Jr.

It will be remembered that Bernard Mullaney, steward of the schooner Pearl, sued Manager Garrity of the theatrical company who cruised on the above named schooner, for back wages due him. The matter was placed in an attorney's hands and Mr. Mullaney has been awarded $75 above his lawyer's fees. Other members of the company now say that they are to come on Mr. Garrity for unpaid salaries, but it is understood that the matter will be settled satisfactorily to the actors by Mr. Garrity.—Portland Express.

READY TO CONFESS.

Mrs. Nack Ready to Tell of Guldensuppe's Murder if Granted Clemency.

New York, Oct. 11.—The World, tomorrow, will say: Through her counsel, Lawyer Emanuel M. Friend, Mrs. Augusta Nack has sent word to District Attorney Youngs of Queens county, that she is ready to tell all she knows about the murder of Wm. Guldensuppe.

Mrs. Nack asks in return that the authorities allow her to plead to manslaughter in the first degree.

The maximum sentence for this offence, if accepted, will be imprisonment in the state prison at hard labor for 20 years. District Attorney Youngs has thus far refused to consider the proposition made by the woman. He is willing, however, to accept a plea of murder in the second degree, which would carry with it a sentence by the court of life imprisonment.

"Unless Mrs. Nack makes a full confession before the end of this week," said District Attorney Youngs, "I will not accept her plea, as we have an excellent case against her. Our case against Thorn, who is indicted with her, for the murder of Guldensuppe, is also complete. I have not received her full confession as yet, but I will not consider her plea if the price for it would be my consent to have her plead to manslaughter in the first degree. That time has passed."

"If that is the case," says Mrs. Nack, "then I will go to the chair with Thorn."

IT DOES NOT IMPROVE.

New Yellow Fever Cases at New Orleans Continue to Be Reported.

New Orleans, Oct. 11.—From the returns there is little hope in the yellow fever situation. The board of health is daily demonstrating that, with a fair show, it is possible to restrict and stamp out the disease, but the people who must suffer from a strict application of scientific methods rebel, the result being that the pathway of the board of health is beset with difficulties.

Today, as on nearly every day since the fever first appeared, about 50 per cent. of the fatalities were traceable to neglect and a disposition to hide the case. The case of Robert Hiteas was reported, today. He had been ill some time. People in the vicinity knew he was ill, yet no report was made to the authorities and the announcement of his case was almost contemporaneous with his death.

The most important feature of the news as to the new cases was the fact that four people were found to have been stricken at the Jewish home, a charitable institution. The officials of Touro infirmary agreed to receive the cases and they were at once taken to the hospital.

NEWS NUGGETS.

The secretary of the English Federated Trades, comprising 30 important industries, announces that the executive committee has definitely decided to call out all its members in sympathy with the struggle of the engineers against their employers, on Friday next, when it is estimated that a total of 400,000 men will be out of work on account of the great labor dispute.

An immence and enthusiastic audience packed the auditorium at the exposition at Nashville, Tenn., Monday, to listen to the speeches attending the presentation of a life size statue of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt to Vanderbilt University. This statue which has been one of the notable figures on the exposition grounds is the gift of citizens of Nashville to the university. The address was by Dr. Depew.

Ten thousand people saw Mayor George H. Smith press the button that lighted the electric flag which signalled the opening of the Holyoke, Mass., festival week, at 7.30 P. M. Monday. The buildings in the city are completely covered with elaborate decorations and electrical arches have been constructed in different sections. Simultaneously with the lighting of the flag, every arch in the city was set ablaze, each having from 100 to 500 incandescent lamps. The exercises were frief and consisted of a short address by Mayor George H. Smith, after which the guests were received by a committee consisting of the directors of the Business Men's Association.

Possibly no man in Auburn is more sought after, today, than Frank Dinsmore, who recently returned from the Klondike region. The young, the old and the middle aged of both sexes desire to see and converse with him. Many gather out of curiosity, wishing to see how a real Klondiker looks. Others want to examine the Alaskan clothing which he brought home; while another class who have made up their minds to explore the frozen north, gather to ask him advice upon all matters pertaining to the journey, the country and the art of mining. Mr. Dinsmore is not a man that wishes to amuse the curious nor does he care to say much to people outside of the immediate family. He has the reputation at least of being a very uncommunicative man. Perhaps this is due to the business that he has followed for so many years, perhaps it is his nature, and again it may be that during his trip home he was much bothered by people who wished to make him talk.—Lewiston Sun.

Money Succeeds George as Senator.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 11.—Gov. McLauren wired The Associated Press, tonight, from his homes in Brandon, that he had appointed Senator-elect Hernando DeSoto Money, as United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator J. Z. George, whose term expires in 1898.

Senator George, before his death, had declined to again become a candidate and an election for the regular term was necessary, and the last Legislature after a long dead-lock, elected Mr. Money for the regular term beginning in 1898.

Col. Wm. H. Forbes of Milton, Mass., died, Monday, at his summer home on Naushon Island, Buzzards Bay. His death was the result of an illness with which he had been affected several months. Col. Forbes was one of the leading citizens of the town of Milton, and was a brother of J. Malcom Forbes, and was born in Milton about 55 years ago.
